Dear Reader,

Summer is definitely here! Some of you may already be vacationing, perhaps exploring Michael Haag’s Egypt, tracing in the steps of The Literary Atlas of Cairo, taking an early morning ride into the desert on The Arabian Horse of Egypt, or immersing yourself in another one of our books on some distant sandy beach.

If you are looking for good fiction to read over the summer, the AUC Press has recently published a collection of fine new Arabic literature in translation titles, all available in the AUC Press Bookstores, some even at a special discount.

During our special Summer Sale, held on June 19 and 20 as part of our 50th Anniversary events, the AUC Press offered up to 50% off on hundreds of fiction and non-fiction titles while a number of distinguished authors signed copies of their recently published AUC Press books in the Downtown Bookstore. Visitors and friends of the AUC Press Bookstores were also invited to see the Summertime collection of watercolor paintings by the late Margo Veillon exhibited for the first time, in the Margo Veillon Gallery of Modern Egyptian Art at the AUC Downtown Cultural Center.

At the end of May, the AUC Press drew over a thousand guests to its annual Book, Art, & Music Festival, an important annual event during which we honor our authors and their books. This year it was held on Mu‘izz Street in Fatimid Cairo, combined with a beautiful performance of Sufi dancing. Last month, the AUC Press also held its annual trade seminar that is designed specifically for our bookstore customers.

We are already looking forward to our next events and to sharing with you the complete Fall 2010 catalog that will be posted on the AUC Press website by late August. It will feature an unusually extensive array of AUC Press publications, ranging from Red Wine, by Amina Zaydan, winner of the Naguib Mahfouz Medal for Literature, and Against the Wall: The Art of Resistance in Palestine, a photographic record of the changing art and graffiti on Israel’s wall by William Parry, to Mona Abaza’s Twentieth-Century Egyptian Art: The Private Collection of Sherwet Shafei, about a prominent Cairo art gallery owner who for the first time shows the masterpieces she has collected of Egyptian art, and The Art of the Pharaohs, by Giorgio Ferrero with photographs by Araldo De Luca, a beautifully illustrated book that depicts the artistic accomplishments that honored the lives of ancient Egypt’s kings and queens—to only name a few.

Happy Summer!

Book of the Month – Available at the AUC Press Bookstores

The Akhenaten Colossi of Karnak
Lise Manniche

What did this legendary pharaoh really look like? Lise Manniche tries to elucidate the iconography of one of ancient Egypt’s most enigmatic kings, whom she describes as “no doubt the most controversial ruler Egypt had ever seen.” With 100 illustrations, the author presents the history of the discovery of the statue fragments from 1925 to the present day, the profusion of opinions on the appearance of the king, and his alleged medical conditions. “Soon after his death [1335 BC] his monuments were taken apart and hidden inside or under subsequent buildings; his statues were overturned, mutilated, and destroyed; and his name was never to be included in the king lists carved in stone or recorded on papyrus during the reigns of his successors,” writes Lise Manniche, in the opening paragraph. Egypt
An AUC Press Guide
By Michael Haag

This unique travel book is quite distinct from other guides on the market. The style of writer and photographer Michael Haag is insightful and the content the most up-to-date. Travelers can find in-depth cultural and historical backgrounds, practical travel advice, user-friendly maps, and recommended sites for each region. It also offers suggested itineraries, a Practical A-Z, a language guide, and an Author’s Choice. Michael Haag has also photographed and written Alexandria Illustrated (AUC Press, 2004) and Cairo Illustrated (AUC Press, 2006), and he is the author of Alexandria: City of Memory (AUC Press, 2004) and Vintage Alexandria: Photographs of the City, 1860–1960 (AUC Press, 2008). Lughatuna al-Fusha
A New Course in Modern Standard Arabic: Book One
By Samia Louis

If you want to learn Modern Standard Arabic the fun way, this book will help do just that. It is an innovative and highly structured course for teaching Arabic to beginners. It comes with a CD, DVD, and interactive online exercises, to help students practice and test their assimilation of new vocabulary, grammar, and pronunciation. The ten modules focus on everyday situations, from greetings and asking about nationality and personal belongings, to numbers.
and prices, and asking about directions, family, and the weather. Samia Louis has taught Arabic for more than ten years and is the author of the very successful book series Kallimni 'Arabi (AUC Press, 2007-2009). Click here to read more and order the book.
